

A DROVE OF 875 TURKEYS.

Farmer Chedester Has a Big Supply for the Christmas Market.

Joseph Chedester, a farmer and turkey buyer who lives near Linden, Clay county, Mo., drove a flock of 875 turkeys yesterday along the public roads of that county from places where he had obtained them to his home.

He will kill the turkeys, dress them and sell them in Kansas City. Turkeys are very plentiful in Clay county and farmers find that driving them along the highways is the best way get them to market.

Lynched Despite His Acquittal.
